

ABORTION RIGHTS DECEPTION

April 20, 1997 (David Cloud, Fundamental Baptist Information Service, P.O. Box 610368, Port Huron, MI 48061, 866-295-4143, fbns@wayoflife.org; for instructions about subscribing and unsubscribing or changing addresses, see the information paragraph at the end of the article) -

The plaintiff in the 1973 case Doe v. Bolton has publicly recanted her story. While Roe v. Wade legalized abortion, Doe allowed women to have an abortion for any reason. "I never went for an abortion. I was not the person they say I was. This case was based on lies," said Sandra Cano ("Mary Doe"). Her ACLU lawyer told the Supreme Court she had been turned down for an abortion. Cano's admission comes two years after Norma McCorvey, the plaintiff in Roe v. Wade, announced that she had become a Christian and wanted to spend the rest of her life opposing abortion (World, 3/29/97). (What in the World!, Volume 21, Number 7, 1997)
